Plan a Service Day

Are you looking for ways to connect, give back, and make an impact? Demonstrate your commitment to the community by volunteering. Practice Civic Spirit by getting involved and taking responsibility for the quality of places in our city.

Who Should Serve
All are welcome to serve.

Why Serve
- Participate in a meaningful activity that brings people together to make a difference
- Protect and care for the places we live, work, and play
- Build camaraderie, establish new relationships, and give back to the community

Programming Ideas
Consider the best option for your team:
- Connect with local churches, libraries, schools, or universities to help make building improvements or assist by cleaning and organizing public spaces for the spring season
- Clean up debris or trash in one of our city parks such as Franklin Square, Meridian Hill Park, or Rock Creek Park
- Help build safe, affordable housing for people in need with an organization like Habitat for Humanity
- Support local organizations like Casey Trees by planting trees and shrubs in city parks

Prepare, Produce, and Manage
A few steps in the planning process:
- Plan a service activity with your team or one that is open to the public for broad participation
- Consider what type of service activity would be best
- Submit your proposal by Monday, December 2 (submit using link below)
- Partner and participate once your event is approved
- Produce and manage your event during Architecture Month

Refer to the Architecture Month landing page for additional important information. Thank you for considering a Service Day and we look forward to your participation in April 2020.
